ZIDA TRAVEL SERIES

Design education without borders

The ZIDA Travel Series is our commitment to learning that travels. We believe the most powerful design education happens where ideas, materials, and makers meet, so we take our students and design community beyond the classroom and into the world's leading design and manufacturing hubs.

Every edition is built on three pillars: industry exposure, material sourcing, and supplier relationships. Participants walk trade fairs, tour factories, study finishes at the source, and build the supplier networks that turn a design practice into a design business.

Our vision is a generation of Nigerian designers who source with confidence, specify with authority, and compete on a global standard while staying rooted in African identity and context.
